

Ada Ragimov

Ada Ragimov is an Israeli harpist, winner of the May Edwards Music Prize and the America-Israel Cultural Foundation Scholarship. Ada Ragimov is a graduate of the Israel Conservatory of Music, has a BMusdegree from the Jerusalem Academy of Music and Dance, and an MA degree from the Royal Welsh College of Music and Drama. During her time living in the UK she has performed with conductors David Jones and Carlo Rizzi, recorded a solo performance for BBC Radio 3, and performed regularly as a soloist in the Yehudi Menuhin Live Music Now programme in different venues across the UK. In Israel, Ada has given radio broadcasted solo recitals in the Felicja Blumental Music Center, performed as a featured artist in “Kol Hamusica” music festival, and is a regular participant in the “Focus on Harp” concert series. Currently, Ada is performing in Israel and abroad with different ensembles and orchestras. She is a member of The Revolution Orchestra and Castle in Time Orchestra, DRD sax and harp duo, and Harpertronic.