

"SURROUND"

a performance for two performers and a harp the performance was created from the meeting of passions. a musician, Adaya Godlevsky, and an plastic artist Uri Levinson. the curiosity to visit the one anothers art domains resulted in "SURROUND"

To Complicate things, Adaya and Uri are a couple. this work taps into relationship issues such as trust, lead and lag, inside and outside, and is a state of art the of relationship. During the performance is a one time creation of a new music instrument inventing a new sound environment. each of our own mythology is brought to the playground creating conflict and a solution.

this performance was presented at few galleries in tel aviv israel.
